Nazi, British 'Total War in Air' Approaches

BOMB ATTACKS SPREAD ON BOTH CHANNEL SIDES

Waves Of Airplanes Pour Missiles On Germany's French Bases

ENGLISH TOWNS SUFFER London Declares Four More Of Reich's Craft Sent Down During Day

By International News Service Terrific British bombing attacks on German French coast bases formed Britain's reply today to unremitting German air raids on England.

Simultaneously, an official announcement said four German bombers were shot down off the east coast of England during the morning. This brought the official total of German planes destroyed in the last 36 hours to 26.

Waves after waves of British bombers soared over the English Channel to attack the German-held bases while still more Nazi planes unloaded bombs on the British Isles as the warring nations seemingly approached their long-predicted "total war in the air."

On the English side of the channel, spectators looking toward the French coast saw flames shoot skyward and heard tremendous explosions.

Some reports said British warships participated in the bombardment.

22 Civilians Dead

German raiders peppered more bombs on English communities following a series of raids in which at least 22 English civilians were known to have been killed.

Meanwhile, authentic information in London revealed that reports of a recent narrow escape by King George VI during a recent air raid were exaggerated.

It was stated the king visited colonial detachments well inland from the south coast July 6. Some time after he terminated his visit a German air raid occurred, but the king was not endangered.

London authorities revealed that the British government virtually has abandoned hope of persuading Elie to join Britain in war against Germany.

But it was made clear that Britain has completed all plans to meet a German invasion, even one aimed at Britain via Ireland, with

12 Ministers To Aid Chief In Conduct Of Ex-Republic

VICHY, France, July 12—Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, 84-year-old hero of Verdun, took control of France as supreme dictator today and adopted the powers of both premier and president.

Following a conference with the aged marshal, President Albert Lebrun stepped down from authority, transferring his powers to Petain, who assumed the title of "chief of the French state."

Thus the Third French Republic came to an end almost on the eve of the 150th anniversary of the fall of the bastille.

A decree was issued containing these major provisions:

1—Capitalism is abolished.

2—Twelve ministers will assist the chief of state.

3—The pre-revolutionary system of French provincial administration will be restored, with 12 governors.

4—Ministers will be responsible directly solely to Petain.

5—Petain will assume legislative functions for duration of the European war.

6—The French senate and chamber of deputies will continue to exist technically pending formation of a Fascist-like chamber of corporations, but they will convene only at request of Petain.

7—The French senate and chamber of deputies will continue to exist technically pending formation of a Fascist-like chamber of corporations, but they will convene only at request of Petain.

Authorities explained that Petain's position now somewhat resembles that of Chancellor Hitler, who as Fuehrer is both president and chancellor of Germany.

English Envoy Dismissed

At the same time, it was announced that Henri Cambon, chargé d'affaires in London, has been dismissed "for disciplinary reasons" because of his "unauthorized" resignation from office July 5.

Petain announced the new gov-

MUCH OF COUNTY WHEAT IS BEING KEPT OFF MART

Pickaway County's wheat harvest was stopped for a day Friday as a result of Thursday's general rain, and farmers were given a chance to catch their breath before starting their tasks again. The downpour Thursday covered most of the county, and wheat that remains standing is too damp to cut.

Many of the district's farmers are storing their wheat under government loans—that is those who have complied with AAA regulations. Some have been selling it, and others—anticipating a rise in price—are storing it expecting to get more than the 70-cent price that was current Friday.

A large percentage of the crop will be stored in government-approved bins.

Elevator operators said Friday that most of the wheat that has been taken to their places of business has been fairly dry and of good quality.

A year ago Friday wheat was 60 cents a bushel. The harvest a year ago was about two weeks ahead of this year.

INCREASE IN POPULATION TOO SMALL TO BOOST PAY

Pickaway County's 624 increase in population is not enough to bring about an increase in salaries for county elected officers, Auditor Forrest Short announced Friday. The increase must be at least a 1,000 or more he pointed out. Officers who would be boosted include the auditor, treasurer, recorder, probate judge and the prosecutor.

Two county commissioners selected by the electors this fall will receive an increase in salary due to a recent enactment of the State Legislature.

Present population of the county is 27,862, according to J. H. Mattox, district census supervisor,

WEALTHY TEXAN CLAIMS WILLKIE'S NAME TO BE OFFERED AT CONVENTION

CHICAGO, July 12—Interest in a reported "plot" to place the name of Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, in nomination at next week's Democratic National Convention was heightened today with an announcement by Guy Warren, wealthy Corpus Christi, Texas, oil operator, is scheduled to arrive in Chicago.

Elevator operators said Friday that most of the wheat that has been taken to their places of business has been fairly dry and of good quality.

Delegates To Convention In Chicago Ready To "Ratify" F. D. R.

SECRETARY HULL NO. 2

No Candidate Being Boomed As Possible Successor To President

WASHINGTON, July 12—President Roosevelt announced flatly today he would not attend the Chicago Democratic Convention.

Beyond that his silence on the third term issue remained unbroken following his regular Friday press conference.

Reporters again undertook to get an inkling of his ultimate decision regarding acceptance or rejection of a third term nomination, but again they ran into a blank wall.

CHICAGO, July 12—It's going to be a cut and dried "New Deal" convention—ticket, platform and all—according to all advance indications in Chicago today.

Delegates coming in for next week's Democratic National convention are boozing nobody seriously to oppose President Roosevelt for renomination, and seem to be reconciled to taking their cue from Washington on the vice presidential nomination as well.

New Dealers arriving from Washington are taking up a "Roosevelt and Hull" ticket. The inside dope is that Mr. Roosevelt wants Secretary of State Cordell Hull as the No. 2 man on the ticket, notwithstanding Hull's professed disinclination to be the vice presidential nominee.

Now that the New Dealers are converging on Chicago, some of the "play" is being taken away from Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley. Up to now, pre-convention activities have centered on Farley who has been doing his best to make this an "interesting show" in spite of the outward apathy. Incoming delegates have no fight in them, and seem to be all set to play their role in a "ratifying" convention.

The foreign policy plank was regarded as settled by President Roosevelt's declaration against sending

RULER'S DANGER EXAGGERATED, LONDON SAYS; CHURCHILL GOES IN TRENCHES TO FLEE PLANE

CHICAGO, July 12—Reports that King George VI escaped death or injury "by minutes" in a recent German air raid are exaggerated, according to reputable information in London today.

It was stated that the monarch had been visiting colonial detachments well inland from the south coast July 6, and had left the region some time previously when a German air raid occurred.

Thus said this source, it would require considerable stretching of the imagination to suggest that King George had been endangered.

At the same time it was disclosed that Prime Minister Winston Churchill yesterday inspected southeastern coastal defenses although warned that German raiders were in the vicinity.

In the midst of his visit, German planes bombed the region and Churchill took shelter in trenches until the raid was over.

Efforts Of Crews Prevent Spread To Main Building Of Institution

CINCINNATI, July 12—Five women were suffocated, two others were injured and many patients had narrow escapes today in a fire at the Holy Family unit of St. Francis Hospital which Fire Chief Barney Houston said might have been of incendiary origin. All the dead were inmate employees.

The theory that spontaneous combustion might have started the fire also was considered. Chief Houston said the definite cause would not be known for some time.

Houston, estimating property damage at $50,000, said it was the "worst fire of its kind in Cincinnati in 30 years."

The dead: Mary Rose Watkins, 42; Mary Pheddres, 57; Minnie Brandtoss, 47; Ragina Niekamp, 39, and Rosalyn Burns, 41.

Theresa Burkhardt, 58, formerly of Cleveland, and Jennie Kensi, formerly of Dayton, Ky., were injured.

Starting in the basement laundry early this morning, the fire and smoke cut off the victims' escape, as indicated by the crouched position of their bodies.

25 COMPANIES CALLED

Twenty-five fire companies and scores of volunteers fought the fire for hours, preventing its spread to the main building where most of the institution's 245 aged and ill patients were quartered.

The hospital is a refuge for aged and incurables, with 150 patients in the latter class. Thirty persons, hospital patients but able to work, were quartered in the fire-swept building. A 4-story brick structure, it contained the power house, laundry and sleeping quarters.

Firemen reported that most of the occupants were forced by smoke and flames to the third floor where they were trapped, until carried down ladders.

One of the victims was found dead in a linen closet.

F. D. R. MAY CALL FULL NATIONAL GUARD TO TRAIN

WASHINGTON, July 12—President Roosevelt today disclosed that he was considering calling out the full National Guard for a period of intensive training as a national defense measure.

The President, at his conference, declared that he would immediately confer with Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson on this step.

Stimson, incidentally, was sitting beside the President at the press conference.

When the President was asked whether he was considering calling out the guard, the President replied that that was the reason Stimson was in his office.

Acceptance By Roosevelt Of Nomination Would Give Him All Ballots

With the Democratic National Convention in Chicago scheduled to open Monday, delegates from the 11th Congressional District are making final arrangements for their departure.

Clark Hunsicker, delegate from Pickaway County, announced Friday that he would leave for the convention sometime Sunday. Mr. Hunsicker declined to make any statement regarding the outcome of the convention, nor did he say whether or not he considered President Roosevelt a candidate, although he said "I have my suspicions."

The Ohio delegation is pledged to support Democratic National Committee Chairman Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati unless President Roosevelt permits himself to be drafted as a candidate for a third term nomination. In this event, the delegation is under instructions to support the President.

Caucus of the Ohio delegation will be held at 9:30 a.m. Monday at the Palmer House in Chicago, for the purpose of selecting members on the convention committee and electing members of the National Committee.

Headquarters for the Ohio delegation will be on the twentieth floor of the Palmer House with Mrs. Mildred R. Jaster, Cleveland, national committeewoman, in charge.

The other delegate from the 11th Congressional District is Walter L. Gordon of Lancaster, while the two alternate delegates are Mell G. Underwood, Jr., of New Lexington and Wayne Armstrong of Hocking County.

MUHLENBERG HIRES NEW GRADE SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

The Muhlenberg Township board of education announced Friday that it had employed P. F. Coggins of near Mount Vernon as its grade school principal and seventh and eighth grade teacher.

Mr. Coggins is married, has two children and has taught 20 years. He is a graduate of Ohio State University.

ARMY AVIATOR KILLED IN LEAP FROM PLANE

SOMERSET, Pa., July 12—Army officials today were investigating the death of Lieut. Newton R. Dick, 26, an Army Air Corps pilot, in a leap from a crashing twin engined army bomber he was ferrying from Mitchel Field, N. Y., to his home base at Wright Field, Dayton.

Witnesses said the motors of the plane appeared to be sputtering and failing as it passed over the rugged forest territory near here. Dick leaped from a height of only about 150 feet, according to witnesses, and his parachute failed to open. The plane crashed in Laurel National Park and burst into flames.

ASHVILLE

By S. D. Fridley
Ashville, Phone 70

Chester Wade Fortner, 7 1/2 pound son born to William and Mrs. Fortner, West Main Street, Wednesday, is another entrant in the Ashville mayoralty contest in time for the one hundredth anniversary incorporation celebration held in the village in the year 1890—forty years hence. Your guess, maybe, is as good or better than ours, but if there are any less than one hundred youngsters two years of age and less in the village and immediate territory, we'll admit being much mistaken when once the count is made.

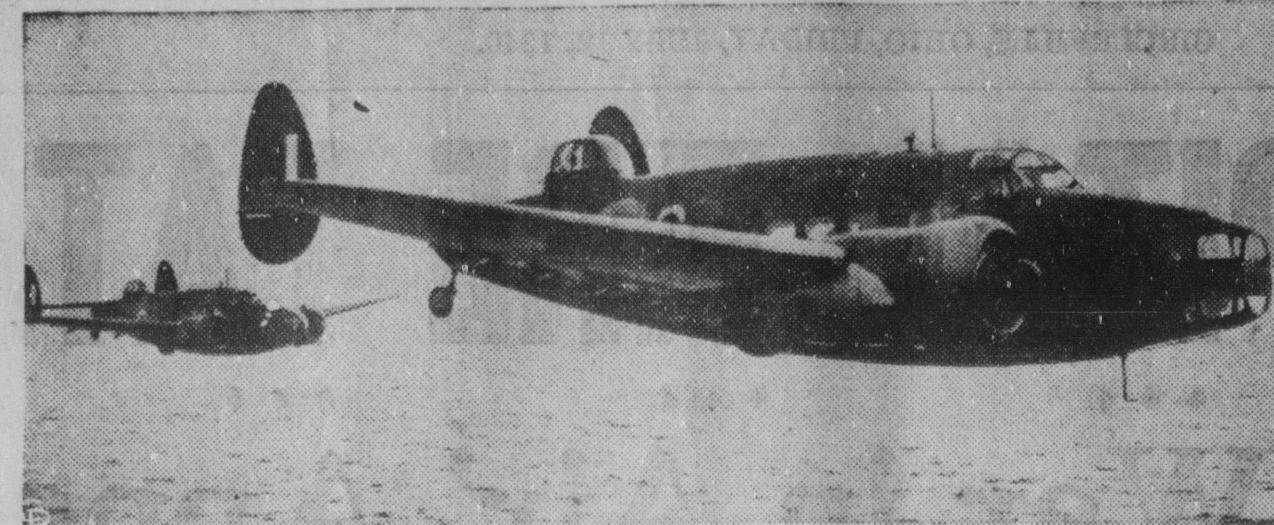

Ashville—The Harrison township trustees, J. S. Hoover, W. E. Swayer, Russell Reid, were in session Wednesday arranging for finances for the coming year. According to a statement by one of the members, they have 33 miles of road under their supervision.

Flora and Horace Peters are now occupying their East Main Street dwelling, vacated recently by Mrs. Davidson and daughter who removed to Cleveland. John S. Sark, who occupied a place in the "seriously ill class" a couple of weeks ago, was downtown Thursday at the wheel driving his auto. Told us "he's just as good as ever" and we'll try and think that's so... Both the grain elevators are kept fairly busy receiving many loads of new wheat from the combines operating in the neighborhood. Among them, one load was from a thresher, they told us.

Ashville—The Ashville-Harrison school board will be in session Saturday evening instead of Monday, the regular meeting date. This change is made for the convenience of a part of the board members whose work takes them to outside territory. The employment of a teacher to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. E. F. Martin will hold the high point spot of the business transacted. There were 25 applicants for the place a week ago and this has not likely grown less by now.

Ashville—Through Harry Briggs, Farm Bureau live-stock agent, a car load of cattle was shipped Friday from the feed lots of Charles E. Cromley. Go to the Eastern market, we were told. Price not named.

Caucus of the Ohio delegation will be held at 9:30 a.m. Monday at the Palmer House in Chicago, for the purpose of selecting members on the convention committee and electing members of the National Committee.

Headquarters for the Ohio delegation will be on the twentieth floor of the Palmer House with Mrs. Mildred R. Jaster, Cleveland, national committeewoman in charge.

The other delegate from the 11th Congressional District is Walter L. Gordon of Lancaster, while the two alternate delegates are Mell G. Underwood, Jr., of New Lexington and Wayne Armstrong of Hocking County.

MUHLENBERG HIRES NEW GRADE SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

The Muilenberg Township board of education announced Friday that it had employed P. F. Coggins of near Mount Vernon as its grade school principal and seventh and eighth grade teacher.

ARMY AVIATOR KILLED IN LEAP FROM PLANE

SOMERSET, Pa., July 12—Army officials today were investigating the death of Lieut. Newton R. Dick, 26, an Army Air Corps pilot, in a leap from a crashing twin engined army bomber he was ferrying from Mitchel Field, N. Y., to his home base at Wright Field, Dayton, O.

Witnesses said the motors of the plane appeared to be sputtering and failing as it passed over the rugged forest territory near here. Dick leaped from a height of only about 150 feet, according to witnesses, and his parachute failed to open. The plane crashed in Laurel National Park and burst into flames.

ASHVILLE

By S. D. Fridley
Ashville, Phone 70

Chester Wade Fortner, 7 1/2 pound son born to William and Mrs. Fortner, West Main Street, Wednesday, is another entrant in the Ashville mayoralty contest in time for the one hundredth anniversary incorporation celebration held in the village in the year 1880—forty years hence. Your guess, maybe, is as good or better than ours, but if there are any less than one hundred youngsters two years of age and less in the village and immediate territory, we'll admit being much mistaken when once the count is made.

The Harrison township trustees, J. S. Hoover, W. E. Swayer, Russell Reid, were in session Wednesday arranging for finances for the coming year. According to a statement by one of the members, they have 33 miles of road under their supervision.

Flora and Horace Peters are now occupying their East Main Street dwelling, vacated recently by Mrs. Davidson and daughter who removed to Cleveland . . . John S. Sark, who occupied a place in the "seriously ill class" a couple of weeks ago, was down town Thursday at the wheel driving his auto. Told us "he's just as good as ever" and we'll try and think that's so . . . Both the grain elevators are kept fairly busy receiving many loads of new wheat from the combines operating in the neighborhood. Among them, one load was from a thresher, they told us.

The Ashville-Harrison school board will be in session Saturday evening instead of Monday, the regular meeting date. This change is made for the convenience of a part of the board members whose work takes them to outside territory.

The employment of a teacher to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. E. F. Martin will hold the high point spot of the business transacted. There were 25 applicants for the place a week ago and this has not likely grown less by now.

Through Harry Briggs, Farm Bureau live-stock agent, a car load of cattle was shipped Friday from the feed lots of Charles E. Cromley. Go to the Eastern market, we were told. Price not named.

The Muilenberg Township board of education announced Friday that it had employed P. F. Coggins of near Mount Vernon as its grade school principal and seventh and eighth grade teacher.

Mr. Coggins is married, has two children and has taught 20 years. He is a graduate of Ohio State University.

FARLEY TO QUIT AS CHAIRMAN IF F. D. IS CHOSEN

Genial Jim Against Third Term, But Feels Certain President To Accept

WALKER TO TAKE POST?

Early Arrivals In Chicago Unanimous That Draft Will Be Success

CHICAGO, July 12—Postmaster General James A. Farley is so opposed personally to violation of the third term tradition that he will retire as Democratic national chairman after the Democratic convention renominates President Roosevelt next week, it was learned today on excellent authority.

Farley has made up his mind to refuse command of the Democratic 1940 campaign because he believes the President should be retiring to private life instead of accepting a "draft" nomination in violation of the principle laid down by George Washington. Farley is convinced, of course, that Mr. Roosevelt will take the third term nomination.

The postmaster general also is ready to resign his cabinet post at an early date in order to accept a prominent position in private business. Most of his friends believe he has already lined up the presidency of the New York American League Baseball Club, a post that will go to him soon as a group of friends complete purchase of the team from the estate of the late Jacob Ruppert.

Walker May Succeed

Farley, incidentally, has personally informed the President of his intentions. For a while, it is said, the President felt he could persuade Farley to remain as national chairman, but now is satisfied that "Genial Jim" will retire. As a result, New Dealers say the President has decided to ask Frank G. Walker, New York attorney and his personal friend, to take over the Democratic chairmanship. Walker, however, has frequently declined public position and may refuse the appointment.

Farley's attitude toward the coming campaign highlighted an extremely dull prelude to the convention. Farley himself was taking extraordinary measures to maintain interest in next week's proceedings. He sent out frantic appeals to prominent Democrats to come to the convention, hinting at "an unusual circumstance" to arouse their interest. Insiders said Farley was only "kidding" as the convention will be hand-ruled from the White House.

The President's renomination was conceded on every side, even though he issues a statement declaring himself not a candidate and asking the convention to nominate another "liberal Democrat." If the President takes this attitude, his advice will be disregarded because an overwhelming majority of the delegates are pledged to him, will vote for him and will renominate him on the first ballot. No one here seriously believes the President will decline the nomination, after it is tendered him.

New Note Voiced

One new note however was sounded about the President's plans. It is that Mr. Roosevelt will demand "party regularity as the price for accepting a "draft" renomination. Authors of this rumor are a bit uncertain as to how the President can exact such a promise from his party, since the convention can scarcely bind Democratic members of congress. At least no convention has in the past.

The vice presidential nomination may provide the only real interest in the convention. Early arrivals believe Secretary of State Cordell Hull is Mr. Roosevelt's personal choice for the second post and that he will be nominated without trouble.

Under Henry VIII of England bowling was outlawed, and it was forbidden for any person "for his or her gain, lucre, or living, to keep, have, hold, occupy, exercise or maintain any common house al-ley or place of bowling."

TO AIR-MINDED

FOLK: Circleville has fallen far behind other Ohio cities of the same size in the matter of aviation activities, a survey released this week by the Ohio Bureau of Aeronautics reveals. It was only a short time after the government started to spend large sums of money for almost any kind of a project that would provide employment that a Circleville organization succeeded in having a goodly amount put aside for an airport. Much money was poured into a property north of the city in an effort to construct an outstanding airport, and it might have been a splendid field, too, if persons behind the organization had not ceased their interest and support. Today the field that was to have been an airport is in farmland again. The city, as a result, has no airport. Some people figure that about $20,000 of government money was tossed into the field, but still we have no airport. The job did provide some working hours for men out of jobs. A short while ago the Bureau of Aeronautics asked Circleville to mark itself properly to assist aviators in passing over the district. Airmarking is imperative, but as yet nothing has been done about it. The Bureau reports that 527 municipalities have notified it that airmarkers have been provided demanded under a section of the Ohio General Code. The bureau's bulletin reveals that no municipality in Pickaway County is properly marked, but indications are that some steps will be taken by aviation department authorities to provide markings. In this day of National Defense programs filling the air and the newspapers it is imperative that Circleville and the county villages comply with aviation department requirements by cooperating in every way possible.

TO LUTHERANS

FRIENDS: Last Sunday 102 Sunday school members were placed on your honor roll for having a perfect attendance over a three month period. For a church in a community of this size, this is an outstanding achievement and deserves the compliments of all church-goers, no matter what their affiliation may be. Not only does it show that there are still many faithful members in your Sunday school, but also that your services are holding the interest of your members during the summer months when outside activities on Sunday mornings are luring many away from other churches. It is not necessary to add that you are enjoying your Sunday

WORLD AT A GLANCE . . . . .

—By—
Charles F. Stewart

CANADIAN newspapermen have been quite numerous in Washington of late. Their papers and associations have been sending them in sizeable crowds to feel out Yankee opinion in connection with the war's application to their dominion. The National Press Club has entertained a goodly delegation of them. Naturally they talk with us freely. And of course they are highly intelligent and informative.

Outstanding they want this understood:

Canada is a country, all by itself.

They admit that it's British, but it isn't English—not by a darned sight. It went into the war as per a declaration absolutely of its own. If the English are licked, that won't mean that Canada is. If licked at all, it'll have to be licked independently.

These Canucks want that distinctly understood.

Suppose England's vanquished, which heaven forbid—nevertheless Canada won't be left out on a limb. Canada still will be Canada, just as much as the United States will continue to be the United States.

SUPPOSE ENGLAND'S BEATEN

Assume, for the sake of argument England capitulates.

I think our Yankees theory is that Canada simply will gravitate into the United States. Far be it from the Canadians to think anything of the kind. They say they will welcome and will expect a close alliance with Uncle Sam. It'll be political and economic. It'll be the compactest kind of a union—but a union with a lower case "u."

But Canada's provinces won't be our states, for all that.

Canada will be a separate national entity.

I've asked these birds, "What if the British fleet has to come over to Halifax? What'll be your attitude?"

"Oh," the answer is, "we'll welcome them as allies and help them all we can—but we're an independent sovereignty."

OVERSEAS?

Now, here's another proposition:

Suppose John Bull does blow up as an empire.

Nevertheless, Canada will be tolerably well taken care of as a member of the New World family. It'll belong to the Pan-American group, whether or no. The United States won't be in a position to permit it to be jumped on from anywhere. Maybe it'll be only our ally—not an integral part of us. All the same, it will be that, in effect.

But, if today's central Britain goes flooey, what about Australia and New Zealand?

school; the record speaks for itself. Your organizations have always taken an active part in community enterprises and your Brotherhood is one of which any church might be proud. Your past record has won you the admiration and respect of the whole community.

TO JAMES MOWERY

SIR: Pickaway County folk were pleased to learn last week that the County Commissioners had appointed you as the new County Home Superintendent, effective August 1. Several other applications were considered by the commissioners, but your record as a Circleville Township farmer for nearly 15 years and your interest in community affairs, won you their unanimous support. Your brother, who served as superintendent of the home until his death a year ago, was highly regarded by the inmates of the home, and his 20 years of work with the institution was evidence of his service to the community. May your experiences as superintendent, and Mrs. Mowery's as matron, be pleasant and profitable to all concerned.

TO AUTHORITIES

OFFICIALS: More and more in the last few weeks I have been hearing complaints about the large number of trucks that go through the center of Circleville, many with their mufflers roaring and others making noises of various kinds. These trucks create hazards of several kinds, among them the one pertaining to traffic being probably the most important. It is no longer safe in some parts of the city to park along main highways for fear that a heavy vehicle may crash into your automobile. The noise the big vehicles make is quite disconcerting especially after night when persons in the neighborhood of the various traffic-lighted intersections are trying to get some sleep. One big truck, loaded so high that it appeared top heavy, was seen to travel through the Court and Main Street intersection this week, strike the traffic light, and keep on going. The trucker was in the middle of the street with no car in front of him, and nothing to keep him from missing the light. The traffic light and its connecting wires were seen to swing back and forth dangerously for several minutes. Why wouldn't it be a good idea for the city safety department to conduct a survey to determine the feasibility of sending big trucks, bound north and south through the city, onto side streets, and the same thing might be attempted with large vehicles moving east and west. One of the complaints voiced more than any other is the fact that many of the trucks that move through Circleville are so heavy that they are causing much damage to the pavement.

UNCLE EZRA

Station E-Z-R-A, the powerful little five-watt down in Rosedale, will be back on the air again come 9 p. m., Saturday with the assistance of WLW and NBC.

Under the expert guidance of Uncle Ezra, owner-operator-manager-announcer-program director-electrician-janitor of the station, "the jumping jenny wren" will become a weekly half hour feature on the airwaves.

With Pat Barrett, who created the Uncle Ezra role back in 1932, will be at least two veterans of former E-Z-R-A programs, Nora Cuneen in the dual roles of Clarissa and Cecelia, and Cliff Souther, as Mayor Boggs. Fran Allison, radio's Aunt Fanny, and the Rosedale trio composed of Miss Allison, Betty Bennett and Carolyn Montgomery, will be among newcomers to the program. A small novelty orchestra will aid Ezra in operating his mythical radio station. Guest performers for the first broadcast will be a silver cornet band.

RADIO BRIEFS

Announcement is expected early next week of appointment of Niles Trammell to succeed Lenox Lohr as proxy of NBC.

Woody Kessler, pianist in Frankie Masters' orchestra, is working on a new symphony featuring the piano.

One of the biggest things at Hollywood parties these nights is Harry Babbitt, vocalist with Kay Kyser, giving an imitation of Jerry Colonna singing "Who's Yiddo?"

The networks will once more feature name bands as sustainers now that difficulties with the Musicians' Union have been ironed out.

Ben Grauer, who announces "Mr. District Attorney," is now the only seven-nights-a-week newscaster on the networks. He's on at 10 p. m. over NBC.

Paul Whiteman has definitely abandoned his orchestra.

In the event that Jean Hereshoff's contract for "Dr. Christian," running to January 1942, is suspended because of war or other reasons, the actor is to receive $10,000 for every 13-week period during the running of the pact.

Catalina Island seems to be the stopping-off place for name bands preparatory to their taking up in Hollywood for pictures. Kay Kyser, latest Catalina attraction, is due

Petain Takes Over

At Vichy Marshal Henri Philippe Petain took control of France as supreme dictator and adopted powers of both premier and president with the title of "chief of the French state."

President Albert Lebrun stepped down from authority, handing his powers to Petain. A decree was issued abolishing capitalism and announcing that Petain will assume legislative functions for duration of the European war.

Seat of the French Government is to be transferred from Vichy to Versailles in German-occupied territory pending German permission.

TIGER PITCHER WINNER IN LOCKER ROOM JOUST

WASHINGTON, July 12—Buck Newsom, league leading pitcher of the Detroit Tigers, was claiming his 13th victory today after a locker room fracas with two Washington sports writers which wound up with the principals unscathed.

Bob Ruark, one of the reporters, entered the Tigers' locker room before yesterday's game with the Washington Senators to discuss a story he had written to which Newsom took objection. Heated words passed and Ruark launched a punch at Newsom. Whether it landed is controversial.

Newsom thereupon wrestled the writer to the floor. When Shirley Povich, the other reporter, sought to restore order, several Tigers pitched in. Net result—a bump on the head for Povich.

Charley Gehring and Birdie Tebbets, Tiger players, then undertook the peacemaker's role with better luck.

NO-WAR PLANK

For the Democratic platform makers, like the Republicans, the biggest headache is the foreign affairs plank.

The same bellicose forces, isolationist and anti, which made life miserable for the Philadelphia platform writers are giving the deep blues to the Democrats. In fact, the rival camps among the Democrats are even more troublesome.

The Republicans, while they squabbled hotly among themselves behind closed doors, were too conscious of party-interest to kick up an open ruckus. On the final showdown, the boys worked out a compromise that give each side a sop. The result was rather ambiguous, but it left the door open for

Need For Metal Shops And Vocational Departments Being Stressed

Immediate participation of Pickaway County schools in educational training to comply with the government's National Defense program, seemed unlikely Friday, following return of local school authorities from a national defense meeting Thursday in Columbus.

Superintendent George D. McDowell, who attended the meeting, sponsored by the State Board of Vocational Education and the State Department of Education, announced that the program, as far as Pickaway County schools were concerned, had not developed to a point where any definite statements concerning it could be made.

The meeting, held at University Chapel, was attended by more than 500 school officials of the state, to determine what part Ohio schools could play in the national program. Training for boys in shops, wood working, sheet metal work, welding and auto and aviation mechanics, and for girls, in power sewing, machine shops, radio and photography, were cited as possible courses. Schools which have equipment available for teaching such courses, may begin their training immediately, but in rural communities, such as Pickaway County, the program is less obvious, school authorities believe.

City Has Metal Shop

Circleville is the only school in the county which has a metal working shop, and it would be inadequate for training all the boys in the county.

Possibilities are that the training course here might be carried through the vocational agricultural departments of the schools. At the present time, there are four such schools in the county, Walnut, Jackson, Pickaway and Perry.

Training might also be conducted through Ohio's 1,200 NYA students. There are in the state 20 NYA shop units and 45 co-sponsors' shops.

The program will be financed by the $70,000,000 appropriation passed by Congress for this type of work.

Among others attending the meeting were Frank Fischer, J. Wray Henry and C. F. Zaenglein of the Circleville schools, Carl Bennett of Walnut Township, Harold Strous of Salt Creek Township, Carl Higley of Ashville, John Florence of Washington Township and Harold Costlow of New Holland.

Convention Chiefs Get Word F.D.R. Will Enter

By Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON, July 12—Jim Farley scrupulously stuck to his resolve not to talk to the press after his talk with the President at Hyde Park. But the morning after this conference, Chip Robert, Secretary of the Democratic National Committee, held a significant luncheon with the group of Democratic Senators arranging the Chicago convention.

This group includes Senators Wagner of New York, Jimmy Byrnes of South Carolina, Pat Harrison of Mississippi, Happy Chandler of Kentucky and several others. To them, Mr. Robert, who is second in command to Farley on the Democratic National Committee, passed the word along that Roosevelt would run for third term.

He also passed on the message that Farley was definitely out, and that the chief difference between him and the President had not been the third term, but the question of who should be the vice presidential candidate.

The New Dealers, Robert reported, were strong for Justice William O. Douglas, but Farley was just as emphatically opposed to him. Jim did not believe that the ticket could win with an out-and-out New Dealer running as second man to Roosevelt.

Farley wanted Hull for Vice President, and Roosevelt heartily concurred in the choice. However, Secretary Hull previously had said he was not available as a vice presidential candidate, though Jim was convinced that all Roosevelt had to do was to urge Hull and he would consent.

Chip Robert also passed on the word that Jim Farley had told Roosevelt he was resigning come what may, in order to accept some business opportunities he could not afford to miss. Farley has gone into debt, and is counting on another job, in addition to bossing the New York Yankees, to recoup his finances.

Roosevelt urged him to stay, but Farley was adamant. The conversation lasted for two solid hours, and never were the two men in more friendly mood. They were extremely frank, but parted on the best of terms, probably feeling more kindly toward each other than at any time in two years.

Chip Robert departed that same afternoon to complete arrangements at Chicago.

VICE PRESIDENTIAL RACE

It became increasingly evident that the main fight at Chicago is going to be over the vice presidential nominee on the Roosevelt ticket.

Despite Secretary Hull's reluctance to serve, many think that in the end, he may be the man. Justice Douglas they consider admirably qualified, but not acceptable politically to the conservative wing of the party.

However, a compromise vice presidential candidate between Hull and Douglas has been looming in the background. He is Lloyd Stark, hard-hitting Governor of Missouri. Stark has been rolling up more and more support in the Far West recently, where several governors are reported backing him.

Stark's strength is chiefly in agricultural areas, he being a nurseryman. Also his long career in the Army during the World War and in the Navy after his graduation from Annapolis fits into the national defense picture.

Bob Ruark, one of the reporters, entered the Tigers' locker room before yesterday's game with the Washington Senators to discuss a story he had written to which Newsom took objection. Heated words passed and Ruark launched a punch at Newsom. Whether it landed is controversial.

At Vichy Marshal Henri Philippe Petain took control of France as supreme dictator and adopted powers of both premier and president with the title of "chief of the French state."

President Albert Lebrun stepped down from authority, handing his powers to Petain. A decree was issued abolishing capitalism and announcing that Petain will assume legislative functions for duration of the European war.

Seat of the French Government is to be transferred from Vichy to Versailles in German-occupied territory pending German permission.

While these changes were taking place, a report at Vichy said authorities at the French West Indian colony of Martinique may request United States merchant ships to supply Martinique with foodstuffs. This report—contrary to recent London denial—claimed that Martinique is "virtually blockaded" by a British naval squadron.

London heard a report that 700,000 or 150,000 German "tourists" are massed in Galicia, Spain, possibly to seize the entire Atlantic seaboard as far as Gibraltar.

Russia denied having served an ultimatum on Turkey. But Turkey called more forces to the colors and waited for a possible Russian request for a share in control of the Dardanelles.

Stark's chief handicap is that he does not control the delegation from his own State of Missouri, and usually it is hard to nominate a man who does not have the home politicians behind him. That is, it was considered hard until Wendell Willkie won at Philadelphia with the New York delegation pledged to Dewey.

Newsom thereupon wrestled the writer to the floor. When Shirley Povich, the other reporter, sought to restore order, several Tigers pitch in. Net result—a bump on the head for Povich.

Charley Gehring and Birdie Tebbets, Tiger players, then undertook the peacemaker's role with better luck.
